A Letter From Italy.

(The following letter from Miss Lucia Burnam will be of interest to many of our readers. It is a personal letter to Mrs. Robt. R. Burnam, but as it contains nothing of a private nature, Mrs. Burnam has at our earnest solicitation, allowed us to give it to our readers. The author of the letter has been abroad for about eighteen months. Siena is a small mountain town in Italy interesting on account of its history.—Ed.)

Siena, Italy, May, 10, 1911

My Dear Cynthia:

I have sent letters and post cards to Robert and Mary since I reached Siena but I seem always to have left out the most delightful experiences—or they happen just after I have sent off a letter. Last Saturday a beautiful warm morning I walked to the convent of the Asservatze founded by Sen. Bernardino, one of Siena's famous saints who was also one of the great preachers of the middle ages. Situated on a lofty eminence, the convent commands a grand view of Siena and the mountains. The servants were working in the vineyard and I noticed that the strawberries were in bloom, so the good brothers will not be entirely dependent on alms for their luxuries, whatever they may be for their daily bread. They are Franciscans who take vows of poverty and look poorer with their sandals and bare heads, than any other order I have seen. The convent has some good pictures, but its chief treasure is a coronation of the Virgin by Della Robbia. There is so much to know and I learn that I am always coming on something new that I ought to have known long before. So when I saw this exquisite altar piece in white and blue faience I was perfectly amazed, for I had no idea he worked in this material. You can hardly believe that such beauty and tenderness of expression, such grace of movement and attitude can be found in China. Beautiful as it all is, the little angels gave me most pleasure. They look like joyous laughing babies all but the little serious one and you feel like squeezing him to your heart and making him laugh too. The post card I enclose gives only a faint idea of it. I intend to buy a beautiful photograph of it, tho as a rule I content myself with post cards. There is an authentic likeness of St. Bernardino from life—nothing like so cheerful looking as the brother who showed me the convent treasures. I noticed a M. S. S. in Arabic on the desk when I went to write my name on the visitors book and he told me with some pride that he spoke—Arabic—having been at Jerusalem and Cairo, and that he thought it the most difficult of all languages. He was very kind but evidently thought a very brief inspection of the picture all that was necessary, so I came away before I was ready—and forgot to look for the tomb of Petrus one of the things I went to see. (You need not mind if you never heard of him—I believe nobody does till he comes to Siena, but he was a great man in his day.) Sunday I decided not to go to church, after the sad experience of the preceding Sunday, of which I wrote to Robert—so with guide book in hand I wandered at random through these narrow paved evil smelling ways which answer for streets. A pestilence destroyed 80,000 people in Siena during the middle ages and a Canadian lady in the house quite seriously asked me if I did not think the germs were still here and there are moments when you can think so. The sound of drums and many feet arrested my attention and going to the wall which overlooked a street 30 feet below I beheld a very curious sight. Six or eight men dressed in medieval costumes carrying banners on which were the coats of arms of their wards were marching every now and then stopping to wave the flags—drawing them dextrously under one leg and over the other, then throwing them high into the air and catching them always by the staff as they came down. They were practicing for the Palio which comes off in August. I went one way and they another, but I met them half a dozen times until I was afraid they would think I was following them up, last when I was returning to my dinner and they were refreshing themselves at a little shop with the red wine of the country which is very good here. Many of the palaces here still have the great iron rings used in olden times to support the flag staffs and torches the only means of lighting the city. Others bear the coats of arms of famous old Siennese families. We often come upon the Piccolome cressets. The she wolf with the twins is supposed by some to have been brought from Rome by the son of Remus who founded Siena and in the Palazzo Salimbeni are greater Lion heads jutting out from the walls. I went to Vespers at the cathedral, celebrated by the Archbishop a fat but feeble looking old man. The Siennese are very religious and the city is under special protection of the Virgin—"Our Lady" as they sweetly call her. It is something really wonderful to be in a church and see some young girl, an old woman—or an old man come in, kneel devotedly down and after a short prayer go out again apparently refreshed in soul. I cannot but feel that the constant use of the church as a daily prayer means a great deal in the spiritual life of this people. I know our stock argument that a religion must be judged by its fruits and that catholicism judged by the ignorance and degradation of the people where it is supreme must fall before Protestantism. But on the other hand, they seem to me, to believe more simply—to love more ardently and I am not prepared to say that this child like faith is not as much to be desired as our determination to think for ourselves which ends often in believing nothing. I must say I see no evidence of the dissatisfaction with the church in Italy of which we read so much. I did not mean to write any of this, but to tell you of the Bella Asti with its wealth of old masters, many of which make you long for a modern gallery, of my drive yesterday to a medieval castle now the residence of a wealthy Siennese couple. They were both in the court yard as I entered with my land lady whom I invited to go with me. Very nice looking kindly people they seemed. They have no children. "It is a great disappointment," says la Signora. The drive was up a hill and from the battlement of the castle we had a grand view but judged simply as scenery, this drive does not compare with a dozen round Ashville. In fact the poverty of the soil affords but a scanty subsistence for herbage of any kind, though there are great fields of scarlet poppies, the great hill sides scantily clothed with some sort of greenery, contrast ill with the magnificent rhododendrons, the flame colored azalias, the miles of wild calceolatus the superb chestnut and oaks of N. C. On the other hand Siena sits like a queen on her three hills, surrounded by the old walls whose gates are closed and locked every night as they were a thousand years ago, and I well remember that when the train pulled into a hideous little plank station surrounded by squalid huts, I involuntarily exclaimed—Ashville is a perfect hole. It is the history which makes the fascination of this land. With love to all the family.

Aff. Yours,
Lucia F. B.

The Cause of Constipation.

Constipation is, in some cases, the direct result from a typhoid or slow acting Liver, brought about by the withholding of the flow of bile. This condition is commonly allied with more or less indigestion and dyspepsia, partly due to the constipation itself.

Many persons have found it comparatively easy to overcome such conditions with a treatment of Rexall Liver Salts. In our judgment, we feel that this preparation is remarkably well fitted to overcome these conditions, and recommend them to you with the understanding that any money you may have spent with us for the preparation will be refunded in case there are no beneficial results.

Resigned.

Deputy Collector Ben Herndon, who has had his headquarters here under Collector Cooper, of the Eighth District, resigned last week and will return to the storekeeper-gauger assignment. Mr. and Mrs. Herndon left Thursday for Lancaster where they will reside. Their many friends will regret to learn that they have left Richmond.

Kidneys Diseases Are Curable

Under certain conditions. The right medicine must be taken before the disease has progressed too far. Mr. Perry A. Pittman, Dale, Tex. says: "I was down in bed for four months with kidney and bladder trouble and gall and stones. One bottle of Filey's Kidney Remedy cured me well and sound." Ask for it For Sale by Stockton & Son.

Fine Dog.

Mr. John Parks, the veteran fox dog breeder, suffered a very bad loss last week, by having his fine runner, Margaret, so seriously injured that she may never be of any use. In some manner one of her legs was torn almost completely off while in the chase and it was not discovered until the animal came in next morning with the rest of the pack. It is thought barbed wire was the cause.

Right in your busiest season when you have the least time to spare you are most likely to take diarrhoea and lose several days' time, unless you have Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy at hand and take a dose on the first appearance of the disease. For sale by Stockton & Son.

Big Fair.

The Bera Fair is an attraction that promises to be one of the best ever known in this section among the colored people. The dates announced are August 17th, 18th and 19th and an attractive premium list has already been circulated. The colored population of Madison will enter many of the contests and are preparing to bring back several premiums.

There is one protectionist argument that will never again occupy the place in American politics that it has in the past. That is the argument that a high protection wall is necessary to enable American manufacturers to compete in home markets with foreign manufactured goods. The reason this stock protectionist argument will never again perform the same valuable mission for the Republicans, is because of a speech delivered in the House by Wm. C. Redfield of New York, who is a manufacturer himself, and who for 15 years has been selling American manufactures in foreign countries. Redfield contended and proved that the difference in daily wage at home and abroad should not be sole basis of determining the amount of protection to be applied to a given article. He cited instance after instance in which he sold articles manufactured by 85 a day American employees in countries where labor received less than one dollar a day. Redfield took the position that American manufacturers did not need as much protection as they were now enjoying "to protect them from foreign competition" because they are successfully competing with foreign manufacturers in all parts of the world. "How does it happen," demanded Redfield, "that in a quotation recently made for machinery to a mine in Japan the American price was $215 less than the English price?" "How does it happen that 720 American locomotives are running upon the Japanese railways, and upon the railways of Formosa and upon those of Manchuria? These are sold in open competition with the makers in Great Britain." Redfield related an incident between an American salesman who recently took a large contract from the Japanese Imperial State Railways and one of the managers of the Imperial Railway shop. The Japanese official was under the impression that he could manufacture cheaper than an American plant because Japanese wages are but one fifth of American wages. "Both men got out their cost books," said Mr. Redfield, "and they found that the fact was the costs for locomotives on the same specifications was three and one-half times greater in the Japanese shops than in the American shops. And this is a perfectly normal fact and not an abnormal one." Redfield said when he was in Calcutta, India, recently his agent pointed to a pair of American made shoes he was wearing. "I paid $3.85 for these shoes," said the agent. "I'll show you an American $5 shoe," Redfield said when he returned to New York he found the same shoe selling on Broadway for $5. "I shall be glad to give names and addresses to any member who inquires in private. Redfield gave a score similar instances. It is impossible to do justice to his remarks on revelation in this dispatch. Every reader of this article may secure, free of charge, a copy of the complete speech, without doubt one of the most remarkable of his kind ever made in Congress, by writing Hon. James T. Lloyd, Chairman, National Democratic Congressional Committee Washington, D. C.

Eczema Cure a Beauty Wash
Although D. D. D. Prescription has been recognized for years as the only remedy for Eczema, Psoriasis, and all other forms of skin diseases, it is now known that there is no other wash, even those used by the beauty specialists, that can compare with this mild liquid for cleansing the skin of pimples, blackheads, rash, and all similar skin affections.

Opens 10th.
On next Monday morning Uncle Sam will open in this city at the postoffice a Postal Savings Bank, under the direction of Postmaster Wallace. Everybody is well acquainted with this new idea of the department to enable the poorer classes to make a savings bank of the postoffice, as well as the rich. The Postal savings system is established for the purpose of providing facilities for depositing savings at the interst with the security of the United States government for repayment. Every person should secure a copy of the rules and regulations from the postmaster governing this new system and get well acquainted with it. It is one of the greatest movements ever inaugurated in this country for the benefit of the people in general and Richmond should take advantage of what the government has placed at its disposal.

Mat Won

At the Columbus Horse Show last week, Kentucky's choice owned by Mrs. R. T. Lowndes, of Danville, won the $200 Campbell stake and Katherine Sheridan took the blue ribbon in the walk trot class, while Reolatta, also owned by Mrs. Lowndes, won the road class. Mr. Mat Cohen's horses also won blue ribbons.

Hol

The hot weather of the year struck Richmond Sunday and the thermometer registered as high as ninety six. No fatalities are reported from this excessive heat, but there were many prostrations reported from different parts of the county. The mercury remained at the top notch until Monday afternoon. There was positively no humidity in the air, which caused much suffering.

Friends in this city have received an announcement of the marriage of Mr. David Bergman, the wealthy merchant of Irvine to Miss Mary Rice of Western Kentucky. The wedding took place last week at the home of the bride.

Millers Meet

Mr. Allen Zaring was one of the prominent members of the Central Kentucky Millers Association was present last week at the annual meeting of this organization in Lexington last week. There were a number of talks and joint discussions by leading members of the association, one of the most important topics being "How to Improve the Quality and Yield of Wheat in Kentucky" with special reference to the territory embraced in the Central Kentucky Millers' Association.

Judge Is Busy.

Judge John C. Chennault, as President of the Allstate Coal & Lumber Co., has been exceedingly busy the past week signing bonds of the Co., which was recently organized. The issue is one of the largest ever made in this section. There are five hundred $1,000 gold bonds. Treasurer of the company, John E. Lynch, of Pittsburgh, arrived in Richmond the first part of the week and he and Judge Chennault have been looking over the property of the company, which is situated in Jackson and Rockcastle counties. There are about 11,000 acres rich in timber and minerals and the company intends to develop it thoroughly. Judge Chennault and Mr. Lynch filed Mr. Vernon to-day a deed of trust to secure the payment of the bonds.

Season Closes.

The last game of the present Blue-grass league season will be played this afternoon on the local lot between the Lexington colts and the Pioneers. The second season will begin on Thursday (tomorrow) when Mayville will cross bats with the local team. Richmond has been greatly strengthened and will begin the new season with renewed determination. Manager Olson has one or two new players in sight and he and the Directors are determined to put a winning team in this season. Richmond has played brilliant ball this year but it seems as if the hoodoo has been with them. In fact Frankfort has also had a hoodoo, for that team is a good one and has three of the best pitchers in the league. Lexington should not be occupying this position on form, for there are only one or two real live players on the team. The Pioneers have never experienced any trouble in defeating the colts. Watch the Pioneers this coming season, which begins Thursday. Mayville has a strong team and will make a good showing from now on. There is not a weak team in the league now and all six managers are determined to win the pennant this time.

Hon. Jas. B. McCreary

Ran Away From His Opponent in Democrat Primary.

The above likeness is familiar to every man, woman and child in the State of Kentucky, and he has been honored again with the highest office in the gift of the Democracy of the State, and the people of Kentucky will likewise honor him at the General election in November. No man, within the ranks of any party, can defeat him, because he is the people's candidate and represents a "government of the people by the people and for the people." His majority will be at all implicated.

reach nearly 30,000 in the primary and will go equally that much in the general election. With Mr. McCreary is the following strong ticket: For Lieutenant Governor--E. J. McDermott, of Louisville.

For State Treasurer--Thomas G. Rhea, of Logan.

For Auditor--Ruby Laffoy, of Hopkins.

For Attorney General--James Garrett, of Adair.

For Secretary of State--C. F. Crellius, of Pendleton.

For Superintendent of Public Instruction--Barksdale Hamlett, of Christian.

For Commissioner of Agriculture--J. W. Newman, of Woodford.

For Clerk of Court of Appeals--R. L. Greene, of Franklin.

Norris Here.

W. S. Norris, a Madison county man who has for many years been identified with the Union Stock Yards of Cincinnati was in town Monday shaking hands with his many friends and paid the Climax office a call. He is now a member of the firm of C. C. Seal & Co. and has an advertisement in this issue of the Climax which he wishes all stock men to read.

Heavy Loss.

W. B. Barker, a most estimable citizen living about four miles beyond Kingston in Dreyfus neighborhood, had the misfortune to have his house and nearly all of its contents, destroyed by fire on Tuesday night of last week. He had no insurance and saved only one bed, a chair and a small trunk containing a few clothes.

Loss between a thousand and twelve hundred dollars.

Saved Her.

Miss Anna Mae Walker came very near drowning last Wednesday, while enjoying the waters of Silver creek at the old Home distillery with a party of young folks. Just below the dam the water is deep and the young lady ventured out too far. Mr. Hugh Cassidy was fortunately close by and pulled her out just in time. It was a very narrow escape.

Negro Girl

Shot to Death While Returning from Dance.

Pattie Harris, colored, sixteen year old daughter of Tom Harris, living at the old toll house on the Lancaster pike was shot and instantly killed this morning at about 2 o'clock. She had been to a dance and was returning home in company with a young colored man named Lewis. When within about a hundred yards of home a man rode up on horse back and shot her. She fell and died at once. Lewis went to her father's house and gave the alarm. From the description given of the murderer a colored man of that neighborhood was suspected investigation it was found that he had gone away on an excursion and could not have been present at the time the deed was committed. Lewis was held by the police but judging from his actions and his character it is not believed he is at all implicated.

High Honor.

Rev. Dr. Charles Scanlon, of Pittsburg, a brother of Dr. D. H. Scanlon, of this city, has just had a very high honor conferred on him by President Taft and the Pittsburg Dispatch has the following:

Rev. Charles Scanlon of Pittsburg, general secretary of the Permanent Committee on Temperance of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church, yesterday received his formal appointment from President William H. Taft as one of the 12 American delegates to the International Congress on Alcoholism, to be held at The Hague, Holland, September 11 to 16.

Rev. Scanlon is the only Pennsylvania delegate to be appointed. His associate delegates are: E. C. Dinwiddie and E. C. Cherrington, Ohio; S. E. Nicholson, Indiana; M. M. Clements, New York; Judge W. J. Pollard, Missouri; Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens, national president of the W. C. T. U., Maine; Mrs. Edith S. Davis, Wisconsin; Dr. D. A. Ellisworth, Massachusetts; Father P. F. O'Callaghan and James H. Shubbs, Illinois; and Prof. P. J. Lennor, Ohio.

Although the coming congress will be the thirteenth, this is the first time that Congress has appropriated the expenses for the American delegation and qualified the President to make the appointments. Rev. Scanlon was a delegate to the same congress in London, England, two years ago. At that time 20 nations were represented by more than 1,000 delegates.

Stiff Fight

"Hub" Dawson, a former star with the Pioneer base ball team, now with Minneapolis was given a fine of $100 in Magistrates court in St. Paul last week. The case grew out of an attempt by Dawson to throw a negro rooster out of the stand who had said something personal to the big catcher. The negro received a badly bruised head the result of several swats of a bat.

Two Winners.

In the athletic events at the Kentucky Press Association held at Cerulean Springs several days ago, Messrs Clarence Woods and A. D. Miller won easily in their respective classes. In the backward race, said to be one of the most difficult ever attempted, Mr. Clarence Woods went fifty yards in remarkably fast time and won a handsome trophy. Mr. Miller distanced all the younger men in throwing the base ball. He watched the Pioneer fielders several days before going to Cerulean and caught on to the easy swing by which they whip the ball from the deep field to the home plate in cutting off runners, and soon caught on with a little practice. His record was something like 100 yards.

Teachers.

Will Gather Here Next Week For Annual Institute.

The County Institute for the white teachers of the county will convene here next week, beginning the 10th, Monday morning. The sessions will be held in the new auditorium at the High School building and Prof. T. J. Conter will be the instructor. The Institute is under the direction of Superintendent John Noland, of the County Schools who has worked exceedingly hard the past two weeks to make this institute a little better than heretofore.

A feature of the sessions will be the singing, under the direction of Richmond's talented musician, Miss Mary Traynor. Solos, duets, quartets and choir selections have been arranged. This part of the program is expected to attract many visitors.

As the schools in this county are to begin earlier this year, the institute has been placed as the first week of the term. The teachers will thus take up their duties in the school room on Monday, the 17th, just following the institute, which will give them an excellent opportunity to readily apply the fresh knowledge gained the preceding week.

COLORED INSTITUTE.

The Colored Teachers of the county are holding their annual institute this week in the Colored A. M. E. church with Prof. P. W. Jones, of the "Frankfort Normal school, as instructor. The colored teachers of Madison county will rank with any in the state and their institute always proves intensely interesting and instructive. The singing, especially, is of the highest order.

DIPLOMAS.

Sup't. Noland announces that on next Friday week, the 14th, the diplomas will be awarded the successful applicants for County High school admittance. The following are the names of the white pupils and their school: Francis Wharton, Valley View.

George Park, Basil Station, Russell Millon, Newby Talbert Jenkins, Newby Luther Jenkins, Newby Alfred Williams, Greens Chapel Kate Bales Smith, East Station Elizabeth Tudor, Green's Chapel Mary Jesse, Clays Ferry Anna Deatherage, Green's Chapel Bertley Parks, Clays Ferry Ole Young, Baldwin school Turley Noland, Green's Chapel Brown Kelley, Clays Ferry Verna Millon, Newby Echel Lisle, Boonesboro Nannie Dunn, Boonesboro Susan Yates, Crookesville.

The following colored applicants were successful and will be given their diplomas on next Friday, 19 A. M., the fifth day of the Colored Institute. Their names and schools are: Beatie Kennedy, Kirksville; Ora Robinson, Waco and Bertha Chennault, Norris Chapel.

Old Timer.

Col. Ned Durbin formerly of this county, now of Bloomington, Ind., is in the county for a short visit to relatives in the county. Col. Durbin was in the Confederate army with the 5th Ky. Vol. Inf., and was known as the champion flier. He had his favorite fife with him Monday and gave an exhibition of his skill on the streets to many of his old time friends. He left here twenty years ago. He formerly lived near Rice Station.

Taylor.

News has been received here of the death of Mrs. W. Taylor, which occurred at Indianapolis several days ago. He was sixty three years of age and lived in Madison county until he was thirty, when he moved to Indiana, and has resided for a long time near Shelbyville. Deceased was a brother of Pendleton Taylor, of this county and a cousin of Messrs C. A. Taylor and J. C. Taylor. Mrs. Thomas Williams, of Foxtown, is a sister. The Shelbyville (Ind.) News says.

"Mr. Taylor was born in Kentucky and lived in that state till he was thirty years old. The rest of his life was spent as a resident of this state. For the past twenty years he had been a resident of this city. Before coming here he followed the occupation of a farmer, in the later years of his life he was an engineer. He was married August 1, 1866, to Miss Florence Fry, of Van Buren township, and the union was a most happy one. In the death of Mr. Taylor his wife has lost a kindhearted companion and the children an indulgent father. Mr. Taylor was a member of the Main street M. E. church and was always active in the church work. He served as superintendent of the Sunday school and as a teacher of the bible class, being a zealous Bible student. He had been at Indianapolis for the past eighteen months."

Long Ago

Col Perry, of the Winchester Sun-Sentinel who is probably twenty years older than any of his friends could place his age in one guess, "dug up" a very interesting game of ball played away back in the sixties, when Richmond halloped Winchester. Col. Perry says:

In July, 1867, the Winchester Baseball team, challenged and played the Richmond team at Richmond. The Winchester team was over in grand style with music and banners flying, confident of a splendid victory. There was an immense crowd witnessed the game. The score stood 87 to 35 in favor of Richmond. The star performers were Jas. W. Poynter and J. D. Simpson.

This was the first match game played by the Winchester Club.

Jumped Us.

Williams, the left hander secured from the Winchester team in exchange for Wills, has jumped and gone to his home in Louisville. He reported here last week but his wife persuaded him to quit base ball and return home. Wills has been on the slump for some time and the management concluded it best to let him go. He has pitched one game for Winchester and was knocked out of the box by Frankfort.

Its Great.

If the oil had just been on a month sooner, what a great benefit it would have been. There is nothing equal to it. The dusty days of May would never have been known and if the same conditions exist next spring, the unctuous liquid will be spread by the first of May. The committee worked hard for an early application, but the subscriptions were slow coming in.

Going Up.

Kentucky's school per capita will be a little higher this year than ever before according to Auditor Frank P. James, who claims it will go to $4.15. The present per capita is $4 but in some counties where the dog tax brings in a neat sum the per capita goes higher, as the money collected from the dog tax goes to the schools in the county where it is collected. The straight per capita for the school children of the whole State has never been higher than $4 which was the amount for last year.

Sound Banks.

Three bands of the city declared their regular semi-annual dividend last Friday and also passed a neat sum to the surplus. The State Bank and Trust paid 3 per cent on its capital stock and passed $2000 to the surplus fund. The Southern National Bank also paid 3 per cent, and passed the same amount to its surplus. This bank has also spent several thousand dollars the past year for repairs and is enjoying an excellent business. The Citizens bank paid 3 per cent dividend and passed $1,000 to its surplus. The Madison National bank will declare its semi-annual dividend on September first. Financial institutions are few and far between, that rank with the local banks.

A Promotion.

Manager H. H. Floyd, who has been in charge of the local exchange for the East Tennessee Telephone Company, has been transferred to the Knoxville office and took charge the 1st. Mr. Floyd has been here for the past three years and has made the Company an excellent official. The operating force, especially, are grieved to see Mr. Floyd leave, as he is one of the most popular and best liked of Managers, who has ever been here, by those under him. His leaving Richmond will also be regretted by many friends.
